

KING CHARLES III

Just imagine!

If king Charles came to our parish one Sunday and announced that he was going to raise everyone to the knighthood.

We would be honoured and rightly so.

We would all line up respectfully and kneel before his majesty while he knighted us with his sword.

How much more should we be honoured when Christ Himself comes to us in the Holy Eucharist every Sunday.

Why do we go all the way to Medjugorje (tainted as it is) when we have our Lord present here in the tabernacle in Leeds?

Yet here we have the very King of Kings come down miraculously on our altar at every Mass.

Should we not kneel before Him. Christ our King?

Should we not kneel before the very Son of God made man for us and Who gives Himself to us in a most loving and intimate manner?

Why do we show such respect to earthly royalty?

With bows and curtsies and yet to the living source of all royalty hardly a bow or a genuflection.

Sadly some receive our Blessed Lord in the hand as though it were a bit of holy bread.

The deleterious effects of the new Mass are eroding our faith.

The maxim 'Lex orandi lex credendi' is happening right now. The way we pray is influencing the way we believe and it must stop and be reversed.

Dear clergy. Let us kneel. Please give us a kneeler.

Let us honour our King in a manner fitting to His majesty.

Kyrie eleison.

Baruch the Scribe
